

RIGGING ENGINEERS

Updated: 20 December 2018

As the world rigging family is really quite small, I feel that it would be nice for everyone to know who the Rigging Engineers are. Therefore, this list is to identify and recognize Rigging Engineers who are graduate engineers and have received two or more years of structured rigging training in a contractor's rigging office. This list is not for employment purposes.

I am very familiar with several Rigging Engineering Technicians who are not graduate engineers but who do the work of a graduate Rigging Engineer and do it well. Omission of their names from this list is not intended to slight them in the least; it is just that there has to be a cut off at some point and the requirement of a graduate degree seems to be the most logical choice.

Rigging Engineers will be added to this list when they send documentation, which states that they have completed a graduate degree in engineering and a resume/CV that shows the appropriate rigging engineering experience, ie, must have received a minimum of two years training in a Contractor's recognized and structured rigging engineering program. Names and information will be corrected, updated, added or deleted upon request. Email all requests to "riggingengineer@maximumreach.com"
